BODY OF KNOWLEDGE

Submit Your Poster Abstract Now!

Does your current research or activities relate to the main theme of this year's meeting – BODY OF KNOWLEDGE – and/or do you have innovative ideas regarding music, sports, neuroscience, technology, medicine, or psychology? If so, you are invited to present your study or project at the AiM27 poster session on Saturday, May 29, 2027, exchange ideas with guests from all over the world, enjoy live musical performances, attend workshops, and otherwise explore aspects of the BODY OF KNOWLEDGE in the performing arts and sports.

All abstracts will be peer-reviewed. Accepted abstracts will be published in the abstract book in both English and German (in printed form). PDFs of posters and handouts will be made available to attendees via the AiM27 website. NEW IN 2027: As a poster presenter, you can offer a live demonstration, show videos, and engage with other conference attendees through activities surrounding the poster session.

Early-career academics are particularly encouraged to submit an abstract. For those just starting out in research, the poster session may provide an opportunity to introduce their first scientific work to an audience, compare their research with international standards, network with local and global scientific communities, and meet luminaries in multiple fields of interest.

If you are interested in sharing your work with others and participating in the poster session, please submit your abstract by Monday, December 7, 2026. Following peer review, you will be notified of the acceptance decision by January 15, 2027. You may download a template for guidance here. Poster abstracts may be submitted in either English or German for review. If accepted, you will need to provide versions of your final text in both languages.

Please contact us with your questions: poster@artinmotion2027.com

We look forward to receiving your abstract!
